Indonesia Fairs and Roadshow Fall 2012 Pathways to U.S. Colleges & Universities

8-14 October 2012 in Yogyakarta, Bandung & Jakarta

Indonesia Education Partnerships, American Education Consortium, and the Center for the Global Advancement of Community Colleges have combined efforts to foster greater accessibility into U.S. higher education for Indonesian students and professionals through the upcoming Pathway Fairs and Roadshow this October 8-14.

Accessability: Any U.S. college, university or institution of higher education is invited, with emphasis placed on accessibility and pathways into full undergraduate degrees. Universities are encouraged to bring information on their partner community colleges, or attend in conjunction with a community college with which they have articulations. Likewise, Community Colleges are encouraged to bring information (or colleagues) from their partner universities.

Yogyakarta, Central Java
8-9 October
(High School Roadshow & Fair)

Bandung, West Java
10-11 October
(High School Roadshow & Fair)

Jakarta (Nation's Capital)
12-14 October
(High School Roadshows & 2 Days of Fairs)

Program: Representatives will be able to choose between international-oriented high schools to visit for presentations and engagement with students, as well as participate in a focused U.S. education fair in each city.

In Jakarta, one full day of high school road shows will be followed by two day-long fairs in different locations, South Jakarta and North Jakarta, to tap into strategic concentrations of internationally oriented students and professionals.

Yogyakarta, Bandung and Jakarta represent the three largest education cities in Indonesia, and are centers for undergraduate mobility into both U.S. community colleges and universities.

Options: Full package includes all hotels, in-country air and ground transport, fairs, and roadshows in all three cities, and a la carte selections of any one city can accommodate any schedule.
